Tag	Position in file	Authorization or values depending on screen type				Default	Position	Description
								The character | after "tag = " allows you to write on several lines, there must be an indentation of 2 spaces, without an empty line title	Header	yes	yes	yes	yes	Required	File begin	Defines the title of the screen.
type		menu	report	display	form	menu	Anywhere	Specifies the type of the screen.
help		yes	yes	yes	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Provides contextual help to explain the purpose of the screen.
action		no	yes	yes	yes	Required	Anywhere	Contains the script or command that will be executed when the user submits the screen.
parent		yes	yes	yes	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Indicates the parent menu to which this screen belongs.
logconsole		no	no	no	yes	yes	Anywhere	Allows capturing of the console display, to be disabled if display problem and/or if interactive shell shortcut		yes	yes	yes	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Sets a shortcut to execute the screen.
caption	Body	yes	no	no	yes	required	To start field	Defines the label displayed of the field.
type		action	no	no	input numeric list yesno	input if form	Anywhere	Specifies the type of the field.
name		no	no	no	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Defines the internal name of the field, used in the script. It must be unique.
help		yes	no	no	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Provides contextual help to explain the purpose of the field default		no	no	no	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Specifies the default value based on the user's selection. See values for $( condition		no	no	no	yes	Empty	Anywhere	Set a condition to display or enable the field. You must specify the name of another field. If this condition field is empty, the field will be invisible.
values		no	no	no	yes	Empty	Anywhere	(Only for lists) Defines the available options. if the content starts with $(it will be the shell that provides the values, otherwise the fixed values will be separated by commas required		no	no	no	yes	no	Anywhere	Indicates whether the field is mandatory.
action		yes	no	no	no	required if menu	Anywhere	Contains the script or command that will be executed when the user submits the item.